

Forget Not The Lord Thy God (words and music by Richard Blauvelt)

When you come into the land that the Lord has given you
Forget not the Lord thy God
When you come into the land that the Lord has given you
Forget not the Lord thy God

When your living in a city and it's walls you have not built
When you drink the pure sweet water of it's well
When you've eaten from a garden you've not planted and your full
Hear Me oh Israel and forget not the Lord thy God

(repeat first verse and chorus)
(guitar and piano solos)

When you come into the land that the Lord has given you
Forget not the Lord thy God
When you come into the land that the Lord has given you
Forget not the Lord thy God

When your wearing robes of righteous the fabric you've not spun
And rings and crowns adorn your hands and your head
When you've been declared he victor in a race you've yet to run
Hear Me oh Israel and forget not the Lord thy God
